My Tel Aviv

Street photographer Ido Biran has been enamoured with his hometown since he can remember. His current project, Tel-Avivi, just launched a new exhibition at the Prima Gallery with 22 other artists, offering intimate peeks at the city as it is experienced by photographers, painters, graphic designers and digital artists. From the colorful graffiti scene to its beaches, bars and boulevards, the many faces of Tel Aviv are all presented side by side.
